State of City Report

The process for developing the Blue Mountains City Vision identified a final important step – monitoring our progress.

How will we know we are on track and heading in the right direction? What means will we have to take stock of our progress and if necessary, reset the course or make adjustments that might be required to stay on course towards a more sustainable future?

The State of City Report presents a view of progress made and action taken to date in achieving the City Vision for a more sustainable Blue Mountains.
